Structure:

The five campus libraries in the El Paso County Community College District (EPCCD) are decentralized. The Head Librarians report to the Associate Vice President of Instruction and Student Success. Technical Services, including acquisitions, cataloging and resource sharing/Interlibrary Loan, is a separate, centralized department servicing the five campus libraries. The libraries employ full-time and part-time Public Services Librarians as well as support staff.

Mission Statement:

The El Paso Community College libraries provide instruction, service, access to information, and materials that enhance academic and personal enrichment which supports the college mission.

The E.P.C.C. mission is “to provide educational opportunities and support services that prepare individuals to improve their personal quality of life and to contribute to their economically and culturally diverse community.”  http://www.epcc.edu/AboutEPCC/Pages/Mission.aspx

The E.P.C.C. libraries provide their diverse and multicultural population of students, faculty, staff and community users with access to information resources and responsive services. The E.P.C.C. libraries also help support the professional development needs of E.P.C.C. faculty and staff.

The E.P.C.C. libraries are committed to the goal of helping to prepare students for lifelong learning by providing them with opportunities to learn how to access information in different formats and to develop the critical thinking skills associated with information literacy.

Service Population:

The libraries serve a diverse body of over 29,460 students, 1,353 faculty and 1,814 classified staff, professional support personnel and administrators.  http://www.epcc.edu/InstitutionalResearch/Documents/Fact_Book_Fall_2016.pdf

LIBRARY UNIT

SUBJECT: Collection Development – General Policies

PURPOSE: To establish guidelines for the acquisition and evaluation of materials that enhance academic growth and personal enrichment in the diverse community served by El Paso Community College.

POLICIES:

1. Authority
   a. Final authority for materials selections rests with the campus Head Librarian for that campus. Selection is the shared responsibility of the public services librarians and other faculty at each individual campus.

   b. The E.P.C.C. libraries will retain control of all resources purchased or placed in their inventories. All such resources will be housed in the E.P.C.C. libraries.

   c. Final authority for the determination of policy in the selection and acquisition of all library material is vested in the Board of Trustees of the El Paso Community College District.

2. Standards
   a. The collection development policy will be guided by national library standards including the A.C.R.L. Standards for Libraries in Higher Education http://www.acrl.org/ala/mgrps/divs/acrl/standards/standardslibraries.cfm and seeks to keep pace with any changes made to these standards and with other relevant new standards adopted by the library profession.

   b. The collection development policy is further guided by the standards established by our accrediting agency, the Southern Association of College and Schools http://www.sacscoc.org/principles.asp and by the Texas Education Agency and the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

3. Controversial Material
   a. The E.P.C.C. libraries believe that the maintenance of a free society requires free access to different points of view, and a conscientious effort is made to include material concerning all sides of an issue. To this end, the E.P.C.C. libraries affirm their acceptance of the principles enumerated in the Library Bill of Rights http://www.ala.org/ala/issuesadvocacy/intfreedom/librarybill/index.cfm as adopted by the American Library Association.

b. Objections to material and requests for reevaluation must be presented in writing, following the procedures outlined in the Library Protocols and Guidelines. Section II.K

4. Copyright Law
   a. It is the policy of the libraries to support the property and copyrights of the creators and their assigns to the materials contained in the collections, as encompassed in the Copyright Act of 1976, as Amended.

   b. The libraries further recognize the need for the fair use of these materials in the pursuit of the mission of the College.

5. Curriculum Support
   a. The libraries will build and maintain collections that adequately support the curriculum taught at the El Paso Community College. The emphasis of the collection will be on supporting degree and certificate programs. Individual campus libraries will concentrate on the curriculum offered at their campus.

   b. A broad spectrum of materials should be available to support research assignments, classroom reports and self-paced learning.

6. Format
   The collection shall include materials and information in diversified formats including print and non-print media.

7. Hardbound/Paperbound
   Due to their longer shelf life, hardbound editions will generally be preferred over paperbound editions when there is a choice between the two. Paperback editions may be preferred for titles that are not expected to contribute lasting value to the collection (such as superseded editions with no historic value).

8. Textbooks
   E.P.C.C. library collections are designed to supplement and enhance information given in course textbooks. Students are expected to buy their own copies of textbooks for each course. The E.P.C.C. libraries do not purchase textbooks unless they can be shown to fill a need not met by comparable materials in the collection. Such exceptions would be classic textbooks, especially those in scientific, technical and business fields, that have become recognized as standard references.

9. Fiction
   The E.P.C.C. libraries will provide works of fiction to support Reading and Literature course work. Readers wishing to access a more extensive collection of leisure reading materials are referred to the El Paso Public Library.

10. Highly Specialized, Rare or Highly Costly Materials
Requests from students or faculty members for the purchase of highly specialized, rare or very expensive materials should be handled by providing access to the materials through Interlibrary Loan/Resource Sharing services or via the TexShare program. Such purchase requests might be justified if the material was intended for repeated, annual use by an entire class.

11. Gifts
   a. Guidelines for the evaluation of gifts are the same as those for selecting purchased materials. Gift titles are accepted only when they impose no significant limitations on housing, handling, or the disposition of duplicate or damaged items. If there is any question about the addition of a gift title to the collection, the final determination will rest with the Head Librarian. (See “Gifts & Donations Procedures” in the Library Protocols and Guidelines Section II.G.)

   b. E.P.C.C. library personnel are not permitted to issue appraisals of gift materials for tax or any other purposes.

12. Professional Review Literature
   The E.P.C.C. libraries will develop and maintain bibliographic review resources needed for collection development decisions. Selection tools may include but are not limited to professional bibliographies, notable booklists and professional library review journals such as Choice, Booklist, and Library Journal, as well as leading subject-specific professional journals.

13. Technology
   The E.P.C.C. libraries should be prepared to utilize new technologies for accessing information as they are developed. Convenient, effective access to electronic bibliographic and full-text databases, whether on-site or remote, must be provided when necessary to support the academic curriculum.

   The E.P.C.C. libraries Collection Development Committee will review the Collection Development Policy statement annually and make proposals for revisions as needed.
SUBJECT: Collection Development – Collection Levels

PURPOSE: Collection levels employed by the E.P.C.C. Libraries for policy development and for collection evaluation purposes. The collection levels below are abridged from the “W.L.N. Collection Codes” as shown in the American Library Association’s Guide for Written Collection Policy Statements, 2nd edition, 1996.

a. Definitions of Collection Levels

- 0 Out of Scope: The library does not collect in this subject.
- 1 Minimal Level: A subject area for which few selections are made beyond very basic works.
- 2 Basic Information Level: A selective collection of materials that serves to introduce and define a subject and to indicate the varieties of information available elsewhere.
  - 2a Basic Information Level, Introductory: The emphasis is on providing resources that introduce and define a subject.
  - 2b Basic Information Level, Advanced: Basic information about a subject is provided on a wider range of topics and with more depth.
- 3 Study Level: A collection that is adequate to impart and maintain knowledge about a subject in a systematic way but at a level of less than research intensity.
  - 3a Basic Study Level: Supports lower division undergraduate courses, as well as some of the basic independent study needs of the lifelong learner.
- 4 Research Level: Includes the major published source materials required for dissertations and independent research.
- 5 Comprehensive Level: A collection in which a library endeavors, so far as is reasonably possible, to include all significant works of recorded knowledge (publications, manuscripts, other forms) for a necessarily defined “special collection.”

b. Collection Levels at the E.P.C.C. Libraries

In general, collection levels will be as follows:

Basic Study Level: for must subjects that encompass study areas directly related to associate degree and certificate programs offered at the campus.
Basic Information Levels: for subject areas not directly related to certificate or degree programs at the campus but needed to support basic course work.

Minimal Level: for subject matter that is peripheral to the campus curriculum and that is accessible at other area libraries.
SUBJECT: Collection Development – Criteria for Selection

PURPOSE: To establish guidelines for selecting materials for the Library collection.

SUBJECT: Collection Development-Gifts and Donations

PURPOSE: To establish guidelines for receipt and processing of Gifts and Donations.

GUIDELINES:

1. Materials should be accepted with the donor’s understanding that the library reserves the right to reject or include these items in the Library collection. The donor will complete a Gift Authorization Form (II G (1)).

2. Upon donor’s request, acknowledgment of gift items is to be written and sent by the librarian upon receipt of these items.

3. The marketing department is also notified of donations using a form on their website.

4. In processing gift items, the following is to be considered:
   a. Do they support the college’s programs and curriculum?
   b. How current are the publication dates? (Volumes more than five years old should be given careful consideration as to their collection value.)
   c. If materials do not support the college programs and curricula, will they still be of value to the collection? (Ex. Ephemeral materials such as children’s books, light reading, paperbacks)

5. Textbooks: These must be evaluated according to the following criteria:
   a. Some textbooks known to be in current use in any college program may be cataloged.

SUBJECT:  Collection Development – Collection Evaluation and Maintenance

PURPOSE:  To provide guidelines for Public Services Librarians, with the involvement of relevant Division faculty, to give systematic attention to collection evaluation and maintenance. This will include acquiring knowledge of existing holdings, identifying weaknesses relative to the curriculum and making the necessary acquisition and de-selection decisions.

1. Collection Evaluation

   a. The collection will be maintained by continuously evaluating the contents both qualitatively and quantitatively. The purpose of evaluation is to identify “gaps” in specific subject areas and to maintain a well-balanced collection in terms of the philosophy and purpose of the E.P.C.C. libraries, and therefore the College.

   b. The collection should be evaluated systematically and on a regular basis by a combination of methods.

   c. Possible evaluation techniques include:

      1) Observation of use patterns and evaluation of unanswered reference questions.

      2) Formal questionnaire or survey of students and faculty to determine the nature of use and the level of satisfaction.

      3) Comparison of library holdings against standard subject bibliographies, course reading lists and core holdings at other community college libraries.

      4) Tracking the growth rate and size of the collection as a whole, and in parts, and gauging the amount of use within specific subject areas.

      5) Annually reviewing Resource Sharing (Interlibrary Loan) requests made by students, faculty, and staff.

      6) Reviewing holdings relative to adjustments in course and program offerings.

      7) Analysis of usage logs for online databases.

2. Weeding

   a. Responsibility

      1) Primary responsibility for weeding the collection is held by the Division Liaison librarians with the involvement of relevant Division faculty in the specific subject areas.

b. Criteria

1) The following general criteria are considered when discarding materials.
   a) Obsolescence
   b) Superseded editions with no historical value
   c) Poor physical condition
   d) Insufficient use or basic value
   e) Changing curricular needs

2) Additional criteria for canceling a subscription to or weeding Periodical titles includes:
   a) Content duplicated in another source
   b) Material not indexed in Library-owned indexes
   c) Expensive titles readily available through other local libraries

3) Additional guidelines for weeding within certain subject areas and by format are contained in the Library Protocols and Guidelines under “Weeding of Reference and Circulating Collections” and “Weeding of the Periodicals Collection.”

4) Schedule:
   a) The Reference collection will be weeded annually.
   b) The Circulating collection will be weeded every three years in a piecemeal process. The Library will follow a written weeding schedule, arranged by subject area, for the Circulating collection.
   c) The Periodicals collection will be weeded annually. Decisions regarding subscriptions to be canceled are made no later than August of each year. No title will be dropped without consultation with the relevant Discipline Coordinator, except when the same title is currently available in a different format (for example, electronic format). If questions or problems arise, the Associate Vice President of Instruction and Student Success will be consulted.

5) Identification and Replacement of Damaged, Lost or Stolen Materials
   a) The entire collection will be inventoried every three years to identify damaged or missing material. The Circulation Department will perform the inventory.
   b) The same general and specific criteria for selection will apply when determining if the material is to be replaced in the library collection. For more specific criteria, see Section II of the Library Protocols and Guidelines.
SUBJECT: Collection Development- Procedure - Weeding of Reference and Circulating Collections

PURPOSE: To develop guidelines for weeding the reference and circulating collections. Systematic removal from the collection of material no longer useful is essential to maintaining the purposes and quality of resources.

GUIDELINES:

1. Weeding Responsibility
   Primary responsibility for weeding the collection is held by the Division Liaison librarians with the involvement of relevant Division faculty in the specific subject areas.
   a. Librarians will be assigned to weed the reference collection at the campus at which they are located.
   b. Librarians will be assigned specific subject areas to weed in the circulating collection.

2. Faculty Involvement
   The process of weeding requires the same participation by the faculty as does the selection of materials.
   a. The library will direct the faculty to those materials which should be considered for withdrawal.
   b. As in the selection process, the recommendations of faculty are essential and will be given full consideration.

3. Timeline
   a. The reference collection is to be weeded annually.
   b. Weeding of the circulating collection will be done every three years in a piecemeal process.
      1) Library will follow a written weeding schedule, arranged by subject area, for the Circulating collection.

4. Reference Collection
   a. Duplicate titles in the reference collection will be weeded, unless high use dictates keeping.
   b. Superseded editions of reference books will be removed and considered for addition to the circulating collection or discarded.
5. Circulating Collection
   a. Material which has become out-of-date and/or obsolete in content, style, and theme will be weeded.
   b. Material that is not sufficiently used or has no basic value will be evaluated for weeding.
   c. Items that are in poor physical condition will be considered for weeding.
   d. As curricular needs change, materials will be evaluated in accordance.
   e. Suggestions for weeding in certain subject areas will be considered.

- Religion and Philosophy: Retain systems of philosophy, but discard historical and explanatory texts when superseded, older theology, old commentaries on the Bible, sectarian literature, sermons, and books on the conduct of life, popular self-help psychology, and other guides to living which are old or no longer popular. Be sure to take into account the use made of such materials, which will vary greatly from community to community.

- Social Sciences: Requires frequent revision because much of the material will deal with problems of temporary interest, which can be replaced later by historical coverage of these topics. Economics needs careful watching for dates. Superseded almanacs and yearbooks should be discarded. Retain standard works on costumes, folklore, and customs. Retain all works dealing with Texas history.

- Language: Discard old grammars, ordinary school dictionaries (rarely discard the larger dictionaries). Weed the rest of the collection on the basis of use.

- Pure Science: Discard books with obsolete information or theories; all general works which have been superseded, unless they are classics in their fields; all ordinary textbooks can usually be discarded after ten years. Botany and natural history should be inspected carefully before discarding.

- Applied Science: Try to keep this section up-to-date by discarding older material. Five to ten years will date much material in fields such as medicine, inventions, radio, television, gardening, business, etc.

- Art, Music, Hobbies, Etc.: Discard in the fine arts sparingly. Keep collections of music, engravings, finely illustrated books.

- Literature: Keep literary history unless it is superseded by a better title; keep collected works unless definitely superseded; discard poets and dramatists no longer regarded in literary histories; discard the works of minor novelists whose works have not been re-issued and who are no longer of interest to readers.

- History: Discard contemporary writing which is now recorded in basic histories (such as World War II materials, historical works which are only summaries and are not authoritative, and works of travel over ten years old, unless distinguished by the style or the importance of the author. Keep histories which have become literary classics.
- Law: Discard all outdated law codes and texts annually.
- Biography: Keep collected biography, but individual lives of persons whose importance is no longer great may be discarded after several decades.
- Encyclopedias: Add new edition every 5 years or as new edition becomes available such as Encyclopedia Britannica which has irregular new editions. Maintain one set from each decade, for historical use.
- Generally, the following classics should be inspected carefully as potential areas for much weeding: privately printed verse, memoirs, and essays; subjects not currently popular; unused or unneeded volumes of sets; publications of municipalities; multiple editions of books; incomplete runs of periodicals, or periodicals without indexes

6. Weeded materials that are deemed useable may be offered to other campus libraries for addition to their collections. Technical Services will be notified of transfers and adjust the catalog records accordingly.

7. Discarding physical items by each Campus Library

   For book items, the following steps should be taken:
   a. With a black marker, mark out the college property stamp from the following places: Top and bottom of each book, title page, and page 25.
   b. Remove call number or mark out with marker.
   c. Stamp or mark each item “Discard” on the title page.
   d. Desensitize or disable the security tag of label on the material.
   e. Dispose of items as deemed appropriate.

   For Audio-Visual Materials (AV material should not be given away due to potential equipment damage):
   a. Remove all college property stamps.
   b. Remove call number label from container/cases and from the item.
   c. Destroy each AV item by cutting the video and cassette tape and by marking an “X” on back of CDs and DVDs with scissors.
   d. Stamp or mark each item “Discard.”
   e. Desensitize or disable the security tag or label on the material and/or the containers/cases.
   f. Dispose of items as deemed appropriate.

   For Periodicals:
   a. Remove all college property stamps.
b. Stamp or mark each item “Discard.”
c. Dispose of items as deemed appropriate

8. The final decision for withdrawing materials will rest with the Head Librarian of that campus.
SUBJECT: Collection Development - Procedure - Weeding of the Periodicals Collection

PURPOSE: To establish guidelines for removal of periodical materials from the library collection.

GUIDELINES:

1. Items of limited usefulness may be removed to maintain the quality and integrity of the collection and to guarantee space and accessibility for those items or greater utility.

2. Collection to be weeded annually-decisions regarding titles to be discarded being made no later than August of each year.

3. Weeding of periodicals is the responsibility of Public Services Librarians.

4. Faculty involvement will be ensured. No program title will be dropped without consultation with the Discipline Coordinator, except when the same title is currently available in a different format (for example, electronic format). If questions or problems arise, the Associate Vice President of Instruction and Student Success will be consulted.

5. Final decision for removal of titles rests with the Head Librarian of that campus.

6. Criteria for removal:
   a. Items with low circulation/use by patrons (i.e., less than 10 uses per semester.)
   b. Items supporting curriculum which has been dropped and no longer exists.
   c. Material not indexed in Library-owned indexes.
   d. Content duplicated in another source.
   e. Expensive items readily available through other local libraries.

5. The form will be given to the Head Librarian of the campus.

6. The Head Librarian will contact the patron to discuss their concerns. If the patron wants to proceed with the reevaluation, the Head Librarian will notify the Associate Vice President of Instruction and Student Success and the Head Librarians of each of the campus Libraries.
7. The Associate Vice President of Instruction and Student Success will assign a review committee composed of the following:

Public service staff will decide, at their discretion, how much time can be expended and information can be provided for each (telephone, e-mail or fax) request. Librarians will assist patrons who are in the Library in the use of available materials and services which provide personal information. It is not the duty of Library staff to provide personal information from these materials.

4. The library assumes no responsibility for the accuracy, veracity, timeliness, or completeness of personal, or any other information it provides. It is the patron’s responsibility to evaluate and utilize it as appropriate.
SUBJECT: Public Service - Reference Service- Medical Reference

PURPOSE: To establish guidelines for assisting patrons with Medical Information.

GUIDELINES:
These guidelines are taken from the Health and Medical Reference Guidelines established by the Reference and User Services Association of the American Library Association. http://www.ala.org/rusa/resources/guidelines/guidelinesmedical

Library users have the right to seek and access health information freely. The library’s role in assisting the patient with health information is delineated below.

1. Library Policy

   - Library staff are not healthcare professionals. Staff should not interpret, explain, or make recommendations regarding diagnoses, treatments, or specific health care professionals or health care facilities.

   - Library staff should not provide medical advice. This should be made clear to the library patron.

   - Library staff should not recommend specific health care providers.

2. Library Role

   - To provide instruction in the use of library resources that provide authoritative sources to answer users’ question. Staff will not perform the research for the patron. The patron is responsible for their own research. Staff cannot interpret or explain medical information to the patron.
• If the library cannot provide the requested information for any reason, staff should refer the library users to alternative information sources.

• According to the Consumer and Patient Health Information Section (CAPHIS) of the Medical Library Association (MLA), “the librarian's role is to provide access to a range of authoritative materials, but he or she cannot be held responsible for the scientific accuracy or currency of all materials in the collection.”
SUBJECT: Public Service - Reference Service- Legal Reference

PURPOSE: To establish guidelines for assisting patrons with Legal Information.

GUIDELINES:
Guidelines are taken/adapted from the University of Texas at Austin Tarlton Law Library website: http://tarlton.law.utexas.edu/services-to-the-public

1. Librarians are available to help patrons locate information resources and to provide assistance in legal research methodology.

2. Reference librarians do not perform research for patrons and may not provide legal advice or interpret legal materials for the benefit of patrons.

3. Librarians are prohibited from giving legal advice. Reference librarians can guide patrons to legal form books/database resources in the library’s collection, but they cannot assist with the location or identification of specific forms.

4. Reference librarians cannot help patrons find an attorney.
SUBJECT: Public Service - Professional Coverage During Evenings, Weekends, and Intersession

SUBJECT: Public Service - Library Instruction

PURPOSE: To establish a procedure by which library instruction sessions are provided to classes at the EPCC Libraries.

GUIDELINES:

1. Library instruction sessions are to be provided by Public Services Librarians.

2. Scheduling of library instruction sessions should be done by Public Services Librarians. In the event that one is not immediately available to schedule a session, the requester should be asked to leave a phone number where he/she can be reached by the librarian at a later time.

3. When taking a request for an instruction session, the librarian should take note of the following:
   - Instructor’s name
   - Instructor’s extension or local phone number
   - E-mail address
   - Course
   - Date of session
   - Time of session
   - Number of students
   - Subject emphasis
   - Library source emphasis

   The librarian will then give the instructor a location for the instruction session (either within the library or classroom) and confirm the date and time.

4. The instruction session should be tailored as much as possible (given time constraints) to the needs of the class. Relevancy is the key to insuring a meaningful session for the students.

5. Statistics on all instruction sessions will be maintained by the Head Librarian on a monthly basis.

6. As scheduling allows, one librarian should not give more than two instruction sessions in one day.
7. To ensure adequate desk coverage, only one instruction session should be scheduled for the evening hours unless approved by the Head Librarian for that campus or if additional Reference desk coverage is provided.
SUBJECT: Public Service - Library Displays

PURPOSE: To provide guidelines for the development and maintenance of attractive displays in all Libraries.

GUIDELINES:

1. The main purposes of displays in the Libraries are to encourage reading and to acquaint our patrons with the different kinds of books, periodicals, and audio-visual materials available at each library.

2. The quality, frequency and attractiveness of Library displays reflect directly on the image that each library creates and projects to the students, staff, and faculty and to visitors.

3. Faculty and students are to be encouraged to contribute to library displays for each campus.

4. The Librarians at all campus libraries are responsible for the creation and preparation of library displays at their respective campuses. They are encouraged to call upon other staff members, faculty and student organizations for their ideas and ingenuity.

5. Any art work, posters, flyers, etc. needed in connection with displays can be obtained from Media Services. However, considerable advance planning is necessary to permit sufficient time to develop the desired work. Also, any such work is subject to budgetary restriction and must be approved by the Head Librarian at the campus.

6. Displays can be formal with a large number of items exhibited for an extended period or they can be brief displays that highlight a particular day or weeklong celebration. Displays are at the discretion of the Public Services Librarians and Head Librarian of each campus.

7. Tools such as “Chase’s Calendar of Annual Events” can be used to obtain ideas for display areas.

9. In support of its mission of teaching, research, and public service, El Paso Community College provides access to computing and information resources for students, faculty, staff and community users, within institutional priorities and financial capabilities.

10. All who use the College’s computing and information resources must act responsibly. Every user is responsible for the integrity of these resources. All users of College-owned or College-leased computing systems must respect the rights of other computing users, respect the integrity of the physical facilities and controls, and respect all pertinent license and contractual agreements.

11. It is the policy of the El Paso Community College that all members of its community act in accordance with these responsibilities, relevant laws and contractual obligations, and the highest standard of ethics. Intentional display or distribution of obscene or pornographic materials is illegal as per Texas Penal Code Section 43.22.

Intentional display or distribution of obscene or pornographic materials is illegal as per Texas Penal Code Section 43.22 and is a Class C misdemeanor.

13. Use of the system constitutes patrons consent to security monitoring and testing and administrative review. There is no reasonable expectation of privacy except as otherwise provided by applicable privacy laws. Unauthorized use of the system is prohibited. Use of the system is subject to review and disclosure in accordance with the Texas Public Information Act and other laws. Use of EPCC computing resources must be in accordance with EPCC procedures for acceptable use of information technology resources and information security. Use of the system indicates patrons awareness of consent to these terms and conditions of use.

14. Violations of these procedures may result in administrative and/or criminal actions. Such administrative action may include, but not be limited to: inspecting any files or programs in question or suspending or restricting the computing privileges of the violator.

15. It should be understood that nothing in these guidelines precludes enforcement under the laws and regulations of the State of Texas, any municipality or county therein, and/or the United States of America.

16. Additional guidelines are defined in the El Paso Community College Procedure Manual including but not limited to: Acceptable Use of Information Technology Resources 2.05.01.54. SUBJECT: Public Service - Personally Identifiable Information (PII)

PURPOSE: To provide an explanation of patron privacy and confidentiality rights and the steps the library will take to respect and protect patron privacy when using library resources, and how the libraries deal with personally identifiable information that is collected from library patrons.

GUIDELINES:

2. Privacy is essential to the exercise of free speech, free thought, and free association. In this library the right to privacy is the right to open inquiry without having the subject of one's interest examined or scrutinized by others. Confidentiality exists when a library is in possession of Personally Identifiable Information (PII) about users and keeps that information private on their behalf. This library's privacy and confidentiality policies are in compliance with applicable federal, state, and local laws.

3. El Paso Community College Libraries Commitment to Our Users Rights of Privacy and Confidentiality
   a) Library users have the right of "notice" to be informed about the policies governing the amount and retention of personally identifiable information, and about why that information is necessary for the provision of library services. Libraries post publicly and acknowledge openly the privacy and information-gathering policies of this library.
   b) The Libraries will avoid creating unnecessary records and will avoid retaining records not needed for the fulfillment of the mission of the library. The libraries do not engage in practices that might place information on public view.
   c) Information gathered and retained about current and valid library users include but is not limited to the following:
4. The Library will not collect or retain private and personally identifiable information without patron consent. Registering for a library card or using services that require PII constitutes consent. PII will be kept confidential and Libraries will not sell, license or disclose personal information to any third party without your consent, except for information required by EPCC, unless compelled to do so under the law or to comply with a court order.

5. In order to receive borrowing privileges, the Libraries must obtain certain information to provide a patron with a library account. When utilizing the Library’s electronic services, patrons may be required to provide a name, e-mail address, EPCC I.D. number, phone number or home address.

6. Libraries never use or share the personally identifiable information provided in ways unrelated to the ones described above unless we are compelled to do so under the law or to comply with a court order. If a patron is affiliated with the college, the library will automatically receive personally identifiable information to create and update their library account from the Registrar's Office or Human Resources.

7. Individuals who use library services that require the function and process of personally identifiable information are entitled to view and/or update their information in person. Patrons will be asked to provide verification such as an ID number and identification card to ensure verification of identity. The purpose of accessing and updating personally identifiable information is to ensure that library operations can function properly. Such functions may include notification of overdue items, recalls, reminders, etc. The library can explain the process of accessing or updating information so that all personally identifiable information is accurate and up to date.

8. Data Integrity: The data we collect and maintain at the library must be accurate and secure. Reasonable steps are taken to assure data integrity, including: using only reputable sources of data; providing patrons access to their own personally identifiable data; updating data whenever possible; destroying untimely data or converting it to anonymous form.

9. Data Retention: The Library will protect personally identifiable information from unauthorized disclosure once it is no longer needed to manage library services. Information that is regularly purged or shredded includes personally identifiable information on library resource use and material circulation history.
10. Tracking Users: The Library removes links between patron records and materials borrowed when items are returned, unless there is an overdue or damage fine/charge, and records are deleted as soon as the original purpose for data collection has been satisfied. The Libraries permit in-house access to information in all formats without creating a data trail, with the exception of Reserves and other materials housed in the Circulation/Reserves area.

11. The library has invested in appropriate technology to protect the security of any personally identifiable information while it is in the library's custody, and we ensure that aggregate, summary data is stripped of personally identifiable information. We regularly remove cookies, Web history, cached files, or other computer and Internet use records and other software code that is placed on our computers or networks.

12. Third Party Security: The Libraries ensure that contracts, licenses, and offsite computer service arrangements reflect our policies and legal obligations concerning user privacy and confidentiality. Should a third party require access to our users’ personally identifiable information, our agreements address appropriate restrictions on the use, aggregation, dissemination, and sale of that information. When connecting to licensed databases outside the library, we release only information that authenticates users as "members of our community." Nevertheless, be advised that there may be limits to library privacy protection when accessing remote sites.

13. Cookies: Users of networked computers will need to enable cookies in order to access a number of resources available through the library. A cookie is a small file sent to the browser by a Web site each time that site is visited. Cookies are stored on the user's computer and can potentially transmit personal information. Cookies are often used to remember information about preferences and pages visited. Patrons can refuse to accept cookies, can disable cookies, and remove cookies from the hard drive. Our Library servers use cookies solely to verify that a person is an authorized user in order to allow remote access to licensed library databases. Cookies sent by our Library servers will disappear when the user's computer browser is closed. We will not share cookies information with external third parties.

14. Security Measures: The Libraries security measures involve both managerial and technical policies and procedures to protect against loss and the unauthorized access, destruction, use, or disclosure of the data. The managerial measures include internal organizational procedures that limit access to data and ensure that those individuals with access do not utilize the data for unauthorized purposes. Our technical security measures to prevent unauthorized access include encryption in the transmission of data; limits on access through use of passwords; and storage of data on secure servers or computers.

   a) Only authorized library staff with assigned confidential passwords are able to access personal data stored in the Library's computer system for the purpose of performing library work. The Libraries will not disclose any personal data we collect from you to any other party except where required by law, by EPCC, or to fulfill an individual user's service request. The Library does not sell or lease users' personal information to companies, universities, or individuals.

15. The Libraries will not share data on individuals with third parties unless needed by E.P.C.C. or required by law. Library users who have questions, concerns, or complaints about the library's handing of their privacy and confidentiality rights should file written comments with the Head Librarian. They will respond in a timely manner and may conduct a privacy investigation or review of policy and procedures.

16. The Libraries authorize only the Head Librarian to receive or comply with requests from law enforcement officers for PII; The Head Librarian will confer with EPCC administrators and legal counsel before determining the proper response. The Libraries will not make library records available to any agency of state, federal, or local government unless a subpoena, warrant, court order or other investigatory document is issued by a court of competent jurisdiction that shows good cause and is in proper form. All library staff and volunteers have been trained to refer any law enforcement inquiries to the Head Librarian.

District Wide Library Statistics Criteria

Each campus will gather its own statistics according to its needs but the following will be submitted for the district-wide summary (utilizing the criteria as described):

These criteria are based on the statistics requested by the Texas State Library or NCES according to their definitions. Some statistics have not been gathered in the past but will probably be gathered in the future (ex. Number of virtual reference transactions.) Others are exclusively useful for us at EPCC (ex. Spanish transactions.)

Interlibrary Loan (Resource Sharing) – Requests taken at each campus

Circulation:
General Circulation transactions: total check-outs, check-ins, renewals, holds, patrons modified/deleted/expired/registered, in-house use of books, AV, etc. (Do not include TexShare cards or overdue notices)
In-House Use: use of Reserve + vertical file (if applicable)
In-House Use: (All) Computers - number of users (include laptop statistics if checked out at your campus)
In-House Use: Periodicals – number of uses of periodicals

Reference:

Information Services to Groups:
Number of Presentations: include library instruction classes; tours; children’s, teen, adult and community programs (NW)

NCES defines as: “Information services to groups are presentations at which a staff member or person invited by a staff member provides information intended for a number of persons and planned in advance. These services may be either bibliographic instruction or library use presentations, or cultural, recreational, or educational presentations. Presentations both on and off the library premises should be included, as long as they are sponsored by the library. Self-paced tutorials and staff training should be excluded, as well as meetings sponsored by other groups using library meeting rooms. Include web-based presentations.”

Total Attendance at all Presentations: Number of people attending presentations

Informational Services to Individuals: Directional information (NCES asks that this be kept separately but doesn’t seem to include it in their compilations.)

Reference & Consultation:

NCES definitions:

“Reference and consultation interactions are information contacts that involve the knowledge, use, recommendation, interpretation, or instruction in the use of one or more information sources by a member of the library staff. Information sources include printed and non-printed materials, machine-readable databases (including assistance with computer searching), the Web, catalogs and other holdings records, and, through communication or referral, other libraries and institutions, and persons both inside and outside the library.

Reference interactions may be in person, by phone, by e-mail, by the Web, and may take place at the reference desk or elsewhere and take less than 20 minutes to complete. Include information and referral services. Consultation interactions typically occur in person and take longer than 20 minutes to complete.

If a contact includes both reference and directional services, it should be reported as one reference transaction. When a staff member utilizes information gained from a previous use of information sources to answer a question, report as a reference transaction, even if the source is not consulted again during this transaction.

“A directional transaction is an information contact which facilitates the use of the library in which the contact occurs and which does NOT involve the knowledge, use, recommendation, interpretation, or instruction in the use of any information sources other than those which describe the library; such as schedules, floor plans, handbooks, and policy statements. Examples of directional transactions include giving instruction in locating, within the library, staff, library users, or physical features, etc., and giving assistance of a nonbibliographic nature with machines.”

Reference transactions: (under 20 minutes)
   In-person – include phone transactions
   Virtual - include e-mail, chat, web, etc. here

Consultations: (20 minutes or more)
   Count each 20 minute consultation as one consultation.

Spanish: Any transaction conducted in Spanish should be counted here – as well as under the transaction type (ex. Directions given in Spanish would be counted as Directional information & Spanish

VendaCard (pages printed): Number of pages printed using VendaCard system. (These numbers are not reported by Spectrum because we do not receive reimbursement on these. Reimbursement is solely for copiers.)
