How to create your works cited page using NoodleTools

NoodleTools is a free service on the Web for EPCC registered students. This site offers tools for your research paper, such as a calendar or to-do list, tutorials and citation tools that help you format and export your works cited page.

- From EPCC Library page, click on the Citation Help and Tutorials link; find the NoodleTools section on the page.
- Follow the instructions on the Noodle Tools section.
- Remember, if working from home (outside EPCC), click on the link NoodleTools – Off-campus access.
- You MUST create a personal ID.
  - Suggestion: So that you don’t forget, use your EPCC ID and password.
- You always have to sign in with the ID you created.
- To start, click New Project.
- Enter a project title.
- Choose the citation style, MLA, APA or Chicago/Turabian.
- Choose the citation level: ADVANCED.
- Click Submit.
- To create a works cited page, click on the Sources tab.
- Create new citation.
- You MUST have all the information ready. You may want to consult the library handouts or your textbook to make sure you are inputting the information correctly. NoodleTools is going to give you advice and tutorials.
- Continue your citation process by answering the questions on the citation boxes.
